Section XXI, Representation of a Respondent in Proceeding for Involuntary Commitment – Alcoholism

3. COURT PROCEEDINGS:

A. Counsel should seek the most expedient and timely resolution of the involuntary commitment proceeding possible while providing effective and zealous advocacy for the respondent. Counsel should only seek the continuance of any phase of the involuntary commitment proceeding if it is necessary to effectively advocate for the respondent.

B. Counsel should ensure that a respondent actively participates in every stage of the involuntary commitment proceeding. Counsel shall encourage the respondent to exercise his or her right to be present at all hearings. Counsel shall advise the respondent of the legal basis under which the court will order discharge, commitment, or recommitment, and the length of commitment.

C. Counsel shall avoid using his or her authority to waive respondent's presence at the hearing except in the following extraordinary cases:

- a. When the respondent unequivocally refuses to attend and cannot be encouraged to do so;
- b. When attending would seriously jeopardize the respondent's mental or physical condition; or,
- c. When the respondent's presence at the hearing would completely disrupt and prevent a meaningful proceeding.

D. If the respondent waives the right to be present, counsel shall make a record of his or her advice to the respondent regarding the right to be present and the choice to waive that right. In such circumstances, counsel shall make a record of the facts relevant to the respondent's absence from the hearing.

E. If, at the time of hearing, a respondent is under the influence of prescribed medications, drugs of abuse or alcohol, counsel shall consider introducing evidence regarding the nature of the medication and its likely effects upon the respondent's demeanor.

F. Counsel shall zealously and effectively engage in all aspects of trial advocacy.

G. Counsel shall be familiar with the applicable court rules and local customs in practice regarding the admissibility of evidence commonly offered in involuntary commitment proceedings, such as hospital and medical records.

H. Counsel shall focus the court's attention on the legal issues to be decided, such as whether the criteria for commitment have been met. Counsel shall plan objections to the admissibility of evidence regarding previous commitment and pending criminal charges, if any, so as to preclude their consideration at least until the adjudicative issue of whether commitment is warranted has been determined.

I. During the involuntary commitment hearing, counsel shall, where it benefits the respondent, examine and cross-examine adverse lay and expert witnesses and challenge other non-testimonial evidence regarding:

- a. Whether there has been shown by clear and convincing evidence a real factual basis for determination that respondent is an alcoholic who habitually lacks self-control as to the use of alcoholic beverages;
- b. Whether there has been shown by clear and convincing evidence real factual basis for determination that respondent has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm on another and, unless committed, respondent is likely to inflict physical harm on another;
- c. Whether there has been shown by clear and convincing evidence a real factual basis for the determination or is incapacitated by alcohol of imminent danger;
- d. The factual basis of conclusory opinions about the respondent's suitability for commitment under the applicable legal standards; and,
- e. Whether there has been shown by clear and convincing evidence a real factual basis to determine that the department is able to provide adequate and appropriate treatment for the respondent and that the treatment is likely to be beneficial.

J. Counsel shall offer evidence favorable to the respondent's case and present lay and expert witnesses, including an impartial, independent addictions medicine expert, physician or chemical dependency counselor who has examined the respondent, if possible.

K. After discussions with the respondent and with his or her consent, counsel shall present all evidence available that is favorable to the respondent regarding appropriate alternatives to involuntary commitment, including, but not limited to, the availability of private treatment resources, the respondent's history of successful placement in the community, the availability of community-based services or other mechanisms to support the respondent in the community.

- a. Counsel shall offer evidence favorable to the respondent regarding the least restrictive placement for the commitment during the proceedings;
- b. Counsel shall also thoroughly examine and cross-examine adverse lay and expert witnesses, particularly regarding the factual basis of conclusory opinions about the necessity of committing the respondent to the most restrictive setting available, such as the Montana Chemical Dependency Center or other approved public treatment facility. Counsel shall explore and consider offering evidence of the respondent's compliance with previous treatment, success in community treatment programs, and family and other support in the community.

Section XXI, Representation of a Respondent in Proceeding for Involuntary Commitment – Alcoholism

L. Counsel shall consider the condition of the respondent in determining the degree to which the hearing procedures shall conform strictly to the applicable rules, as some respondents may not be able to consent knowingly and voluntarily to the waiver of any procedural or evidentiary rights. Counsel shall argue strict application for the burden of proof and the law and, at all times, endeavor to preserve the record for appeal. Counsel shall review all orders and seek the amendment of orders as necessary, including the deletion of provisions not supported by the record.

M. Counsel shall provide continuity in representation for the respondent throughout the involuntary commitment process.

N. Counsel who has represented a respondent preceding and during a court hearing shall make every effort to maintain responsibility for the respondent's legal representation so long as the respondent remains committed.

O. If counsel who represented the respondent during the commitment proceeding does not continue to represent the respondent after commitment is ordered, he or she shall make all reasonable efforts to ensure that the respondent is well represented in all matters that stem from the respondent's commitment. Specific objectives include:

- a. A smooth transfer of responsibility to new counsel who assumes representation in post-hearing matters, including motions for amended findings, stays of the commitment order pending appeal, appeals, petitions for writs, periodic review hearings, recommitment proceedings, and other available legal actions to contest commitment; and
- b. Monitoring of the treatment and services provided a committed respondent to ensure the quality of the treatment and services.
